The programme was the largest to date entertaining audiences over the Bank Holiday weekend with two parades, a video mapping and fireworks display, a 39 metre panoramic wheel, John McCarthy Circus Bar Archive Exhibition in the Limerick Museum and Fossett's Circus.

In addition to this, Limerick welcomed 21 bands to the International Band Championships with six American Bands, one German and one United Kingdom band joining in the festivities. The creative content of the Limerick St. Patrick's Day parade included Lumen, Limerick's own Street Spectacle Group, Luxe, Macnas and Artastic, bringing great creative entries, colour and performance to this year's Parade.

The second instalment of the European Outdoor Arts Academy: School of Spectacle, took place in March and was strategically designed to take place in the run up to St Patrick's Day so that street spectacle professionals from Bulgaria, Lithuania, Cyprus, and Ireland could come together to train for a week but also use their expertise in delivering an element of the Limerick St. Patrick's Day Parade. The training was led by professionals from Walk the Plank from Manchester and locally based Fidget Feet and co funded by Creative Europe, Limerick City and County Council and The Arts Council.

Limerick Cultural Civic Engagement Programme St Patrick's Festival

Limerick Culture and Arts office has strategically established a Cultural Civic Engagement Programme, which aims to encourage active civic engagement in the five civic cultural events delivered by Limerick City and County Council each year. - 21 bands for the International Band Championships

As one American participant in the volunteer programme wrote: "Well organized, very non-clique-ish as these things can be in the U.S. I thank Karen (Volunteer Coordinator) for the opportunity to do this, something I never dreamed of doing, but now that I have, participating in a St. Patrick's Day parade in Ireland should be on everyone's 'bucket list'. I will brag about this for years to come".

This is a three-day course that covers the rescue of casualties from cars, vans HGVs and buses. This is one of the largest courses of its kind ran in Ireland, with all of our 150 personnel plus fire fighters from Clare Fire Service being trained over a 10 week period from March to May. This course is being run locally on the Cleeves Site on O'Callaghan Strand with the kind assistance of Pat Tierman Motors, Geary Motors, Shannon Transport and Bus Eireann, for providing demonstration sessions to the crews.
