6. +CityxChange

- As part of the +CityxChange EU project the Urban Innovation Department hosted a series of Community Participation events. This series of events was the latest in the series City Engage weeks which commenced in 2017. The theme of the week's events was Limerick Laneways - collective thinking and action.

Eight events were hosted in the newly opened Citizens Observatory on Rutland Street and included: community mapping of the laneways of the city centre; a sensor making workshop; fire safety in historic buildings and a creative play workshop aimed at children. The week culminated in the hosting of a night of fun activities around the idea of creating a positive energy city to coincide with Culture Night.

In excess of 900 people attended the events over the week making it the most successful engage week to date. Another week of events are being planned to coincide with Riverfest in May as part of creating a Smart Positive Energy City.

- Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) is a pre-commercial procurement that enables public bodies to purchase research to stimulate innovation that addresses identified citizen need. Over the course of the last 12 months, the Urban Innovation Department has with the support of Enterprise Ireland managed an SBIR process centred on the challenge of fire safety in historic buildings. The process culminated in the selection of one company to potentially develop a "smart" solution to support the challenges of fire safety in the historic building stock that predominate in the city centre.

Safefacility was selected to proceed to phase 2 of the process where they will test and develop an automated building safety product that can support the refurbishment of buildings in the city centre and to bring them back into residential use.

The project has been supported by; Innovate Limerick, Local Enterprise Office, Dublin City Council, Digital Services, Limerick City and County Council as well the Fire Service and the Conservation Office.

Arts Department mentee. The mentoring process involves four two-hour meetings between the selected 'mentee' and their chosen professional writer. The mentor will read up to 10,000 words of the mentee's writing in advance of each meeting and share their hard earned critical feedback and advice. The work in progress of the mentee is discussed in depth. The hope is that the chosen mentees will go on to write great works of literature to match or beat the quality of their mentors. It's a form of peer to peer teaching that is increasingly popular across all sectors of Irish life – in industry as well as the arts. The National Mentoring Programme, run by Words Ireland with support from the Arts Council and a number of city and county Arts Offices, Centres and Libraries, aims to develop the best new talent on the Irish literary scene, which many say is undergoing a prolonged golden age.

Strategic Fund for Culture and Arts Scheme 2019

The following letters of support for the Strategic Fund were provided:

- One letter of support was provided for Culture Ireland
- One letter of support was provided for the Arts Council Festival Investment Scheme

The Strategic Fund for Culture and Arts Scheme supports applications to national and international funding bodies to help leverage funding by offering a percentage of any funding awarded, in the event of a successful application.

Festivals funded by Limerick City and County Council

Festivals in Limerick come in all shapes and sizes and cater to all tastes, no matter how eclectic or niche. This October was certainly alive and kicking with a wide range to choose from.

Éigse Michael Hartnett Literary and Arts Festival (3 to 5 October)

Éigse Michael Hartnett 2019, which took place in Newcastle West, Co Limerick from 3-5 October this year, marked the 20th anniversary of Michael Hartnett's death in October 1999. But his poems remain and two decades after his death, remain as compelling and as fresh as ever and it is this legacy which is celebrated through Éigse Michael Hartnett. This year, to mark the 20th anniversary, Limerick City and County Council in conjunction with the local Eigse Michael Hartnett committee brought together a great gathering of poets and musicians in tribute. The list of poets that attended this year's Eigse is long and distinguished. Nuala Ní Dhomhnaill Paddy Bushe, Paula Meehan, Theo Dorgan, James Harpur, Eileen Sheahan, Doireann Ní Chriofa, Gabriel Fitzmaurice, Jo Slade, Máighréad Medbh and Edward O'Dwyer.

Samhain, Limerick's Halloween Festival

(24 – 26 October)

Award winning Lumen Street Theatre brought the second Samhain, Limerick's Halloween Festival, back to the streets of medieval Limerick in October. Samhain festival culminated with a light filled lantern parade on Nicholas Street on 26 October. On the night The Bishop's Lady rose once again to roam the medieval streets of Limerick City, haunting all who gather before her. This bespoke festival celebrates local folklore and traditions through talks and workshops, and fun educational events for children that will include spooky storytelling, all set within this ancient part of the city. This magical time of year included a fire performance, a Death Café by Jennifer Moran Stritch in Jack Monday's, talks based on the philosophy behind 'Pagan Rave' by Billy Mag Fhloinn in Ormston

House, traditional stories by Eddie Lenihan and an evening plunge into the cool waters of our city's River Shannon by SwimableLimerick.

St. Martin's Fair

(28 – 31 October)

St Martin's Fair is an International, interdisciplinary conference at multiple venues on King's Island. This conference, based around the medieval manuscript known as the Black Book of Limerick. Over three days various themes celebrating Limerick's medieval urban history were covered. There was also a tour of King John's Castle, a concert of medieval music in St Mary's Cathedral and presentations on medieval sailing routes and Viking boat building techniques.

Viva la Vida

(25 – 26 October)

Limerick's first Latin American festival, ¡Viva la Vida!, took place from 25-26 October throughout the city. The aim of the festival is to highlight Latin American culture through educational events, community workshops and live music and dance performances that will educate and entertain.

European Projects

TRAINART is a Creative Europe Project designed to implement a capacity building programme for cultural operators to develop new skills and new business models in two specific performing arts sectors: (i) New management models for cultural spaces; and (ii) Live performances/artistic interventions in non-conventional frameworks. TRAINART will organise a blended training programme for cultural operators consisting of 60 online training hours and of 60 onsite training hours through several Training Hotspots to be organised across Europe. The first partner meeting took place in Ancona in Italy from 28-30 October. Limerick City and County Council is an associate partner and will welcome the partners to Limerick in May 2020 for training.

School of Participation is a Creative Europe Project that will provide capacity building opportunities for creative practitioners to give them the confidence to work in participatory practice. This project is a follow on project from the 2019 School of Spectacle, and will

Integrated Dance

The Integrated Dance programme, with dance artist Mary Hartney at the West Limerick Children's Services, began with an information meeting for parents and guardians on 22 October. The aim of this project is to introduce participants to dance as an art form whilst facilitating active and productive engagement in dance activities amongst disabled and non-disabled participants.

Projects

Helium Arts

In October Helium Arts facilitated another set of weekly Saturday workshops over five weeks in Watch House Cross Library, with 5-8 year olds attending in the morning and 9-12 year olds attending in the afternoon. Medical cover is provided by a trained professional at the workshops. One child even remarked, "I never get the chance to paint." 'You have inspired them to make a lot of stuff at home. (My other son) has also blossomed here. Usually he is very concerned about (my son with illness) and he is the one who gets all the attention.' (Mother).

Culture and Arts Department Art Collection

The preparation for loaning a number of works to University Hospital Limerick are underway, with the works being valued and a number of works framed. Members of the UL Hospitals Committee made the selection for exhibition.

Creative Ireland

Kilfinane Community Art Exhibition

This exhibition showcased the work of community members in the Kilfinane Community Council's Art, Craft and Traditional Skills group. The group revived traditional skills of working with wool and gave them a new twist in an art project this summer. The group processed raw sheep and alpaca fleeces direct from the farm, into a fine quality, multicoloured art material. Under the guidance of Limerick textile artist Karen Cunneen-Bilbow, ten community members then learnt to 'paint with wool'. The result is a series of wool paintings, "Postcards from the Ballyhouras", which were on display at Molly's Restaurant in Kilfinane from 9-18 October.

Local Creative Youth Partnership

The first meeting of the Limerick Local Creative Youth Partnership (LCYP) Steering Committee took place on 22 October. At their core, LCYPs are networks which enable information sharing, collaboration between local creative youth service providers to bring about better use of existing resources, practices and initiatives in an ETB area. A coordinator has been appointed to deliver the pilot project that Limerick and Clare ETB was successful in securing funding for as part of the Creative Youth Plan from Creative Ireland.

of the Learning Limerick Steering Group. The UNESCO Global Network of Learning Cities has 170 active members from 53 countries in every region of the world. Each of these ground-breaking cities in the network has implemented effective lifelong learning policies and practices that support the development of inclusive, safe, resilient and sustainable cities and contribute to the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. The Learning City awards 2019 were delivered to 10 cities who are members of the Network during the conference. The Conference host city Medellin was one of the cities to receive this Learning City Award. Medellin coordinates a number of innovative programmes, including one that has helped to successfully reintegrate over 5,000 school drop-outs by engaging with them on a one-to-one basis. The 'How Are We Doing?' monitoring and evaluation project is another important component of Medellin's learning city initiative. As part of the conference, Councillor Kiely participated in a Mayors' Forum on GNLC strategy (closed session) hosted by speakers David Atchoarena (UNESCO Institute of Lifelong Learning Director), Federico Gutiérrez (Mayor of Medellin, Colombia) and Anne Coupez, (Chief of unit for strategic planning, monitoring UNESCO), following this session, a two-year strategy to enhance further the work of the UNESCO Global Network of Learning Cities was adopted. A fund to support the work of the network was also launched. Councillor Kiely presented at this forum at which Limerick had the opportunity to forge new partnerships that will enhance learning experiences for all people. Limerick has been invited to take on the role of co-ordinating city for the cluster on "Entrepreneurship" and the Learning Limerick steering group is looking forward to sharing experiences on the implementation of local actions and to leading the work of this thematic cluster. The city that Limerick will be working closely with in co-ordinating this cluster is Chengdu city in China. On the afternoon of 2 October, Limerick, represented by Councillor Kiely, formally presented on the theme "Digitally Excluded populations" along with Nam-seok Ko, Mayor, Yeonsu-gu, Incheon metropolitan, Republic of Korea and Ms Catherine Lido, Senior Lecturer, School of Education, Urban Big data Centre, University of Glasgow, UK. The key agencies in Limerick have strong expertise in this area, with Limerick Digital Strategy 2017 – 2020 – Building Ireland's First Digital City being launched by Limerick City and County Council in 2018. Councillor Kiely presented on the work of the Digital Inclusion working group, which has inter-agency support and agreed terms of reference. Research has been commissioned around some of the key actions that the group has identified, which will focus on the experience of being digitally excluded and aiming to identify appropriate responses at local, regional and national levels; aligned to international best practice. Two site visits were also hosted by Federico Gutiérrez (Mayor of Medellín). Delegates visited an area called Commune 10, La Candelaria, and Commune 13 (San Javier). Both areas have been positively transformed following years of drug related violence.

3. Libraries, Gallery & Museum

Library Services

- Children's Book Festival was celebrated across city and county library branches with authors Gabriel Fitzmaurice, Padraig Kenny, Helena Close, Roisin Meaney and Gillian Perdue meeting large numbers of children, teachers and parents to foster a love of books and reading. Activities ranged from Messy Hands art workshops to spooky Halloween tales to a walk in the woods sponsored by Foras na Gaeilge " Draíocht na gCoille", a walk , talk and workshop on trees, nature and the environment. Creative writing workshops for budding authors also featured.
- Foynes, Clonlara, Abbeyfeale and Cappamore branches all held events for Children's Book Festival. Competitions for designing bookmarks have been run in all other branches with book tokens as prizes.
- The new Sensory Room at Watch House Cross is in huge demand with families and organizations. Thirty-minute sessions can be booked and the uptake is growing. It started with 150 sessions in the first month and it has increased to 170 in the month of October. This space has been designed to help individuals with a variety of sensory and learning challenges, particularly those identified as being on the autism spectrum.
- Decade of Centenaries events continued with talks by historian Dr. John O'Callaghan, author of the book "Limerick: The Irish Revolution 1912-1923, in The Granary, Kilmallock and Newcastle West branches. This informative and illuminating review of this period of conflict focusing on Limerick was very well received by the attentive audiences. For younger historians Brian Gallagher visited Kilmallock Library on 11 October to talk about his books set during the War of Independence in Ireland. His stirring presentation had the audience delighted.
- Kilmallock branch celebrated Space Week 4 – 11 October by streaming live images from the International Space Station on the large digital screen in children's section of the Library. In association with Blackrock Castle Observatory Cork we promoted the wonders of space with stirring images and our collection of space books. Dooradoyle marked it with a display of Space books and a miniature Apollo 11.

- Restorative Practices is an emerging social science, which deals with relationships in all their aspects. Building and maintaining them and looking at what to do when things go wrong. Joe Power of Restorative Practices Limerick gave a workshop on the practice at Kilmallock Library on 11 October. Joe provided strategies for use in everyday life and there was time for a little fun. This workshop was hosted under the Healthy Ireland at the Library national campaign.
- Room on the Broom, the all-time favourite story for children from Julia Donaldson the writer of the Gruffalo was the focus for our Halloween tales for Children on 24 October in Kilmallock branch. Children from Scoil Mocheallóg read Room on the Broom and Winnie the Witch with creepy sound effects and made some witches wands which everyone got to take home. The Little Readers workshop ran on 16 October for very little ones and their grownups. Marie McElhinney from the Limerick Childcare Committee attended for this month's workshop to share information on the National Childcare Scheme.
- Author Ray Flannery visited Newcastle West and Adare on 9 October where his first publication "Moany Mc Moan", proved very popular with invited class groups.
- On 10 October Killoughteen National School availed of two coding workshops provided free to the library by Mobile IT in Newcastle West Library. These were an outstanding success, as these coding sessions are very popular with primary school classes. In this way, the library can play an active role in empowering future generations in IT. The group learned the basics of coding using Scratch, a visual coding language for children, and designed a digital game of hide and seek.
- On 22 October Fiona Ismail, our colleague from the Granary library gave an outstanding presentation on Dinosaurs; the audience of 26 students were captivated by the talk and slides.
- On 23 October as part of our Foras na Gaeilge events in the branch, the library hosted 'Draíocht na gCoille', a walk, talk and workshop on trees, nature and the environment. It started with a nature trail in the local Demesne, where the 5th class Gaelscoil class, gathered nuts, berries and leaves, then returned to the library for light refreshments, followed by a talk and experiments by Environmentalist Seamus MacConmara. Foras Na Gaeilge sponsored this activity.

- Halloween was celebrated in all main branches with craft activities, spooky story times and dress up opportunities for all. Some sessions using Irish and English were very popular.
- In Watch House Cross Library Niall De Burca, international storyteller launched the Book Festival this year with two fantastic performances attended by 250 children from our local schools and their teachers on 8 October.
- UL Teddy Bears Hospital attended by a local preschool group and their teddies followed this on 9 October. This event provided children with the opportunity to interact with medical students in a safe and fun environment while learning about hospitals and doctors. Gary Ward, author of 'Under the Bed Monsters' delivered a fascinating event to two senior infant classes from Corpus Christi NS.
- Tallest Smallest Theatre returned on 11 October with two BFG shows and as always was a resounding success with all of the 160 local schoolchildren who were lucky enough to attend these events. Authors Padraig Kenny, Helena Close and Gillian Perdue hosted talks and workshops across the month.
- The Dogs Trust also gave a talk to children from JFK Memorial School. All of the local schools got a chance to bring some of their classes to a Book Festival event ensuring that both teachers and pupils are aware of our many resources and facilities.
- The QQI Learners awards ceremony took place on 15 October and many students collected their certificates for the courses they had completed during the year. There are seven different courses currently running in Watch House Cross Library affording interested patrons the opportunity of upskilling in IT, Web Design and Photoshop.
- Watch House Cross Branch received an Age Friendly Charter in October and Minister Michael Ring presented this charter to Patricia Cusack representing Limerick at a ceremony in Dublin. Limerick Libraries also received a certificate for our involvement in the Right to Read Campaign.

- ABC Start Right delivered a five-week baby reflexology programme to very young patrons. They invited author, Mary Murphy to deliver a workshop for Toddlers and pre-schoolers.
- "Tallest Smallest Theatre" featuring Roald Dahl's BFG story visited The Granary, Dooradoyle, and Watch House Cross libraries this month to entertain and inform very large numbers of invited school groups.
- The Age Action computer course with one to one tuition by volunteers and a Digital Skills course run by Ballyhoura CLG continued in Dooradoyle branch. Students from Catherine McAuley School visited on 11 October and students from St. Gabriel's visited on 16 October. Paul's N.S. have recommenced their class visits now that the school has moved back to its new building.

Limerick Museum

- An exhibition of paintings by Helen G Blake from Belfast opened in the Museum on 1 October and continued for the entire month.
- Amazing Lace, the Memory of the Cloth a symposium and accompanying pop-up exhibition celebrating Limerick Lace was held in the Absolute Hotel on 12 October. It was very successful and was attended by representatives from various Irish lace traditions, including Carrickmacross, South Armagh, Headford and Kenmare.
- As part of Limerick City and County Council's Decade of Centenaries programme, 1919 in Limerick: A Centenary Symposium was held in St. Mary's Cathedral on 25 October. It examined the important events that occurred in both Limerick and Ireland during the year 1919, and among the speakers were Dr. Angus Mitchell, Dr. John O'Callaghan and Fr. Brian Murphy.

Limerick City Gallery of Art (LCGA)

- The Gallery has enjoyed very strong visitor numbers for the month of October in response to the current exhibition, Sediment by Mariele Neudecker

1. Housing Strategy Implementation

1. Housing Strategy Implementation

1. The Housing Development Department co-ordinated a Housing Strategy Workshop on 17 October which included discussion around the following items :
 - An update and timeframe for the roll-out of the Single Differential Rent Scheme;
 - Planned Maintenance – Selection of Estates for Sample Survey –
 - Loan Approval and timeframe
 - Update on the Scheme of Affordable Priorities
2. The newly elected Strategic Policy Committee held their first meeting on 29 October. Matters that were discussed are as follows:
 - Private Downsizing Scheme
 - Land Availability
 - Regeneration Training Update
 - Strategic Goals and Priorities for 2020 such as:
 - a) Build Programme
 - b) Affordable Housing
 - c) Planned Maintenance
 - d) Removal of Voids/Vacant houses
 - e) Single Differential Rent Scheme
 - f) Choice-Based letting
 - g) Downsizing
 - h) Land Availability review
3. On 31 October, Housing Development Directorate had their workshop with the Department of Housing, Planning and Local Government (DHPLG) on rolling out the five sites that gained 'Approval in Principal' in August. The five sites include Council owned lands at the Guinness Site (lower Carey's Road), Toppin's Field, the Curragower, Sonny's Corner (Athlunkard Street) and Clonmacken.
4. Sarah Newell of Housing Development Directorate was a mentor who set the Housing challenge for Limerick's First Climathon, which took place on 25-26 October at ENGINE on Upper Cecil Street. Participants were presented with the challenge, and worked in teams to come up with solutions, with the best solution winning prizes and developing the idea. 'ReStory' was a project, which won the overall challenge, and now with support seeks to develop a portal to integrate various platforms that highlight vacant buildings in Limerick City and showcase their reuse potential in an effort to de-risk and demystify the process for private sector enablement.

2. Regeneration Strategy Implementation

- An apprentice from Hospitality Education Training Centre, Southill which is partly funded through Limerick Regeneration Social Intervention Fund along with the Limerick and Clare Education and Training Board won SME Training and Apprenticeship Award (European Alliance for Apprenticeships) in Helsinki.
- Tait House, Southill working with the Regeneration has been shortlisted for Best Non-profit at Limerick Chamber Regional Business Awards 2019.
- Moyross Community Enterprise Centre has opened their new community park. It is a wonderful addition to the area. This is part of the Limerick Regeneration Framework Implementation Plan.
- With the help of Limerick Regeneration Our Lady of Lourdes Community Enterprise Centre's have purchased a new community bus to help to service the Community area of Ballinacurra Weston.
- Moyross Motocross Club have organised open days on the Moyross track. They are trying to involve local Red Cross or First Aid groups to attend on the day to cover them for First Aid by way of them using it as a training day plus maybe giving the participants basic instruction of what to do in the event of an accident.
- Nicholas Street has undergone a makeover funded partially by Regeneration – the new paint and murals have received very positive feedback.

3. Digital Services

- On 22 October, members of the Digital Services team attended the All Ireland Smart Cities Forum Third Annual Conference in Croke Park. The theme of the conference was "Sustainable Places, Connected Communities". The Digital Services team had a stand providing information about Limerick's Digital Strategy as well as the +CityxChange project, while a digital model of a Georgian building developed as part of the +CityxChange project was also made available for attendees to interact with. Topics discussed at the conference included the Role of Technology in Sustainable Cities and Communities, Climate Change and the Smart City, Public Sector Innovation and the Role of Cities, Innovative Solutions to Public Sector Challenges, and Smart Places and the Citizen.
- Several new features were deployed to Limerick.ie this month, including an Irish language option which was added to the Council homepage and automatic updates to Councillor cases on My Limerick. The Christmas website was also relaunched.
- The LITe Programme was rolled out to the Customer Services department this month, while Digital Services will be working with the LITe team to migrate the HR Department onto Sharepoint Online in November.

EU Projects:

- On 4 October, Terry Connolly and Kieran Reeves discussed the Horizon 2020 +CityxChange project on Limerick City Community Radio with Michael O'Connor. The interview covered a range of topics around climate action and creating a sustainable energy future for Limerick.
- From 7-10 October, Dr. Mihai Bilaucă and Terry Connolly attended the "European Week of Regions and Cities" (EWRC) which took place in Brussels. Sessions were attended dealing with Financial Investment in Green Energy, Smart Cities, Citizen Engagement and other topics related to Limerick's strategic goals. Bilateral meetings were held with Billy Kelleher MEP, Grainne Ryan from Enterprise Ireland, as well as with representatives from the cities of Cork (IE), Leeuwarden (NL), Milan (IT), Vienna (AT), and Trondheim (NO). Fringe discussions were also held with representatives from the UIA and Interreg Europe funding bodies.

- On 8 October Terry Connolly represented the +CityxChange project at the "RES in Buildings" clustering event hosted by the European Commission Innovation and Networks Executive Agency (INEA). This meeting was a knowledge sharing exercise between a number of EU Projects dealing with the incorporation of Renewable Energy technology into the fabric of cities.
- On 9 October a meeting was held between Limerick, Trondheim and the European Commission's Directorate-General for Regional and Urban Policy (DG REGIO). The meeting was hosted by Wallis Goelen-Vandebroek; senior expert on urban/territorial development and inclusive growth. A very productive and insightful discussion was held around the UN Sustainable Development Goals and the potential role of cities and regions in raising awareness of them among their inhabitants.
- On 10 October Limerick City and County Council represented by Chief Executive Dr. Pat Daly and Dr. Mihai Bilaucă, along with Trondheim Municipality represented by Chief Executive Morten Wolden, highlighted the key challenges and solutions put forward by the +CityxChange project during a workshop as part of the EWRC. The session was on "The Future of Urban Energy Systems: Innovation for positive energy cities and sustainable communities". See: <https://www.limerick.ie/council/newsroom/news/limerick-and-trondheim-lighting-way-europes-mid-sized-cities>
- From 23-25 October Limerick City and County Council hosted the second +CityxChange Consortium meeting in The Strand Hotel. This 3 day meeting was attended by 70 experts from around Europe representing the 32 partners in the project. Workshops were held on topics such as City Modelling, Transport and Mobility, Citizen-Led Energy Transitions, and The Common Energy Market. The purpose of the meeting was to review work done on the project to date, and planning our efforts for 2020.
- From 28 October to 1 November, members of the Digital Services Team attended the Kick-Off Meeting for "Find Your Greatness", an EU Urbact III Phase 1 project. Over the next 4 months, Limerick will work with seven other European cities to design a plan to deliver Europe's first strategic brand building programme for smart cities.

Promotion of Hohenlohe Twinning Relationship

An invitation was received from the German Ambassador, Ms. Deike Potzel, to attend and participate in a Twinning Event and attend a Reception to celebrate the Day of German Unity, on Friday, 4 October, 2019 at the Residence of the German Embassy, Donnybrook, Dublin 4. Thirty years after the fall of the Berlin wall, this event celebrated the 29th Day of German Unity in the German Residence and promoted German Irish twinnings.

Two officials from Corporate Services and Governance Department and The Tourism Officer attended this event. A stand was set up promoting and showcasing Limerick and all queries and questions were answered by all those visiting the stand. The relationship between Limerick and Hohenlohe in Germany was also highlighted and visitors to the stand were given brochures and promotional materials on Limerick. Approximately 300 people attended this event which was an excellent event to show all that is good in Limerick. As a result of this, Ambassador Potzel paid a courtesy visit to the Mayor of the City and County of Limerick on 10 October where the economic and tourism links between Hohenlohe and Limerick were further discussed.

Mayoral Receptions were held for the following:

- Mae Leonard, in recognition of her achievements as one of Sunday Miscellany's best loved and longstanding contributors, Mae Leonard, has through her writing as a poet and folklorist continued to share lovingly with the nation her memory bank of all things Limerick. She has had a number of books published including a poetry collection and has also won a number of literary awards, including the Cecil Day Lewis and the Gerard Manley Hopkins awards, and some time ago was shortlisted for the Francis McManus Short Story Award on RTÉ Radio 1.
- Malachy McCourt, in recognition of his unique contribution and the contribution of the McCourt family to the telling of Limerick's story around the world. In celebration of Malachy's own personal story as an artist, activist, broadcaster, actor, raconteur and as a gentleman of Ireland and New York.
- Maureen Sparling, in recognition of her versatility as an author, as a novelist, short story writer and as a poet, her work has kept the literary tradition of the 'Parish' alive. Through her persistence, Limerick now has a statue of Bard of Thomond, a project she took on tirelessly to ensure that his legacy was honoured, not only by locals, but for visitors from around the world.

Customer Services

On 3 October, Limerick was hit by another orangeweather alert, Storm Lorenzo.

This weather alert saw wind speeds of 65km/h, with gusts of up to 100km/h, causing disruption across Limerick city and county. Throughout the storm, Customer Services' call centre remained open and available to the citizen to support their requests. Customer Services also worked very closely with the Major Emergency Team to ensure essential services continued throughout the city and county.

October also saw the establishment of dedicated Account Managers, who are an additional support to our elected members in accessing the services of the Council. Their role is to work with our colleagues and with our Councillors to ensure requests are answered appropriately and in a timely fashion.

In October, there was 210 cases logged through the MyLimerick platform, 206 of which were logged by local representatives.

Customer Services processed 77 Residential Parking Permits throughout October.

Customer Services also continued to support the Housing Maintenance Department by logging 70% of cases throughout the month of October, as well as logging 53 cases for housing maintenance in the area offices and taking 1,453 calls for Housing Maintenance in October.

Customer Services received 12,770 calls via our call centre throughout the month, handling 46% of calls at first point of contact.

This works out at approximately 556 calls per day.

In October, there were 883 cases logged on behalf of elected representatives by Customer Services.

Overall, on the SugarCRM (Customer Relationship Management) System, 3,463 cases were logged throughout October. 68% of these being logged by Customer Services in both our Merchant's Quay and Dooradoyle offices.

5. Business Improvement

- Business Improvement and Corporate Services worked with the Corporate Policy Group and other key stakeholders to assist in the production of a Draft Corporate Plan (2019 -2024) for Limerick City and County Council.
- The Corporate Plan is a strategic framework for actions over a five-year period. It is a central component of our business architecture, linking policy, organisational activity, governance and performance management and actions.
- The Mission Statement, Vision and Values in the Draft Corporate Plan were accompanied by the eight strategic goals of Limerick City and County Council for 2019 to 2024. Each goal is underpinned by a series of objectives.
- In keeping with Business Improvement's intention to engage with citizens, the Corporate Plan was published on "MyPoint", the Council's new online engagement platform. Citizens and staff alike were encouraged to deliver feedback on the Draft Corporate Plan which provided a digital outlet for engagement along with feedback sessions and discussions held with all key stakeholders.
- The Draft Corporate Plan will be further refined before being presented to the elected members on the 25 November, 2019.
