INTRODUCTION

This Library Development Plan, People-Place-Platform, sets out a strong vision and clear direction for the sustainable development of Limerick City and County Council's public library service over the five year period 2021-2025.

It has been prepared and adopted by Limerick City and County Council in accordance with the Local Government Act 2001 (Section 78). It is set within a strategic framework of 3 key themes and underpinned by 60 priority actions.

These priority actions will guide the implementation of the plan which, in turn, will be transformed into targeted and measured annual business plans that will be subject to regular review and evaluation.

The plan has been shaped and informed by a thorough review and analysis of the existing service and in consultation with key stakeholders. This Library Development Plan underpins Limerick City and County Council's core themes of social inclusion, collaboration and citizen engagement. At the heart of this plan is a vision to promote wellbeing and quality of life for our citizens in Limerick.

We would like to thank the staff of Limerick Library Service who have produced this plan and we are confident that it will contribute significantly to the development of our City and County Library Service in Limerick over the next five years.

SOCIO-ECONOMIC PROFILE

Limerick has seen significant economic growth in recent years and has been very successful in attracting investment into the City and wider region.

Limerick is investing over €1 billion in enterprise and investment infrastructure as part of the Limerick 2030 Vision: An Economic and Spatial Plan for Limerick.

The key aims of the plan include the creation of 12,000 jobs in Limerick with over 5,000 in the city centre, accelerating and scaling economic investments; securing and delivering key strategic sites; office locations and investment zones; and transforming Limerick into a major economic force in the Irish and European economy.

The findings of the 6th Global Best to Invest Report recently ranked Limerick as one of the top 10 cities in Western Europe in which to invest.

Limerick has excellent connectivity through Shannon International Airport and Shannon Foynes Port, and is central on the Atlantic Economic Corridor and the Wild Atlantic Way. Limerick is home to three excellent third level educational institutions, the University of Limerick, Limerick Institute of Technology and Mary Immaculate College. In addition, it has a wide geographic distribution of schools at primary and secondary level to service its young population.

Limerick has a high profile in sport, as well as international quality facilities for training and events. It has well developed community organisations, strong community spirit and a sense of pride and attachment to local areas.

Demographic change has helped make Limerick more diverse and vibrant with immigration from many different countries contributing to cultural, economic and social diversity.

Limerick, like many other cities and counties, faces social and economic challenges as it returns to growth following the Covid-19 pandemic. Limerick City and County Council's response as we face into 2021 and beyond is aimed at building future resilience and strengthening inter-agency partnerships into the future.

The creation and retention of employment and enterprise diversification in Limerick City and County continues to be a priority and the Council will continue to use its resources and property assets to facilitate job creation in the coming years.

A key objective of Limerick City and County Council is strengthening the role that our public libraries play in enhancing the quality of life of our citizens. The needs, which have been identified, include a focus on literacy, IT skills, the need for re-training in preparation for return to work and combating both urban and rural isolation.

THEME 1: PEOPLE

People are at the centre of the library's mission to inspire and cultivate learning, advance knowledge and strengthen communities. The public library as people reflects a new focus on building human capital and knowledge networks in the community.

The public library comes alive when it is learning with people from all walks of life: parents, teenagers, students, jobseekers, entrepreneurs, immigrants, retirees, authors, etc.

Public libraries are powerful cultural and social inclusion agents, relevant to the needs of our time and open to the evolving changes in culture, technology and media. Their strong emphasis on events and activities and dedicated outreach programmes for disadvantaged and minority groups are a positive social intervention in local communities, open to all and barrier free.

Public libraries have expanded from their traditional role of lending books and media to becoming event based, community hubs which offer a wide range of community services where people can meet, engage and develop.

Library staff are a critical frontline resource and are at the centre of the library's mission to serve, inspire, cultivate learning, advance knowledge and nurture and strengthen community wellbeing. Library staff anticipate information and community needs and connect people to available resources, both locally and globally.

A major strength of public library staff is their ability to build relationships and cultivate partnerships with the local authority, key stakeholders and the wider community in the delivery of national programmes and initiatives

The library must strive to maintain and develop these collaborations and networks within the community, in order to provide an enhanced service to address the changing needs in society.

 - 1.286 We will ensure that relevant child protection, health and safety and other statutory requirements are adhered to in compliance with national legislation and Council policies.

THEME 2: PLACE

The library is first and foremost a place, a place that promotes development in society. It is a commitment to service and is a trusted and valued space at the heart of the community. The importance of the library as place is growing. Our public are visiting libraries in greater numbers, both as individuals and groups.

Modern libraries are now described as a "third place" between home and work. They are vibrant destinations with good digital spaces, new learning spaces and have equality of access and diversity in all services. The capacity of the library service to engage individuals and communities is directly related to the quality of its infrastructure.

Although today's libraries are both a physical and virtual place, it continues to be the physical presence of the library that anchors it in the community. Research and experience show that geography and place still matter.

Physical library places are community assets. They provide a safe and trusted location, strengthen community and build social connections.

The public library space is a destination for many users, serving many purposes; personal quiet time for reading, research or homework, public events and performances, innovation labs, maker spaces and co-working and collaboration spaces.

The physical library must continue to transition and embrace the openness and flexibility needed to thrive in a world of constant change. It must create an environment that facilitates patterns of interacting, learning and accessing information. It must allow for flexible spaces to be used for a variety of activities with the possibility of redefining use in response to changing demand.

PRIORITY ACTIONS: PLACE

- 2.44 We will replace our mobile library, schools and library delivery vehicles to ensure continuity of these key frontline services.
- 2.5 We will implement the national policy initiative, My Open Library.
- 2.6 We will address the objectives in the Climate Action Plan, which requires that all public sector buildings have a BER rating of B by the end of 2030.
- 2.7 We will develop a resource efficiency action plan and reduce the consumption of singleuse items in all our library branches e.g. drinking fountains to encourage the use of reusable water bottles.
- 2.8 We will promote and support environmental awareness and education through the development of strategic partnerships and programming opportunities.
- 2.9 We will plan that our future libraries are adaptable and flexible spaces that meet the ever-changing needs of our society.
- 2.10 We will ensure that our library spaces are dynamic, innovative and vibrant destinations, defined by our users.

THEME 3: PLATFORM

The public library operates within two separate worlds. In addition to being a physical space with physical collections, the library in the digital age is a virtual platform where people and technology meet.

The library's virtual presence, which is accessible from anywhere 24/7, must be as engaging as its physical space and fully serve the library's mission built around equitable access, learning and civic development. According to Helen Shenten, Librarian and Archivist, Trinity College Library, the modern public library is a "sophisticated interplay between the physical spaces and physical collections, and the virtual space".

The library as platform re-shapes the library's daily activities, shifting away from the traditional model of organising and lending the world's knowledge toward a new vision of the library as a central hub for learning and community connections.

Many libraries are now creating spaces that are rich with tools and technologies that inspire and facilitate learning, discovery and creation and where experimentation is encouraged with trained library staff as community mentors.

Examples of the growing community presence of the always-open virtual library are e-resources, links to reliable websites, online access to a shared national catalogue of 15 million books, extensive online courses, online talks and events.

One distinguishing feature of the library as platform is that it is trusted to be objective and operates in the interests of its users. It utilises new technologies and content to best effect for the purpose of community engagement, allowing people to contribute their knowledge, and experiences to these assets.

PRIORITY ACTIONS: PLATFORM

- 3.1 We will ensure that our website is fully accessible and provides reliable and up-to-date information.
- 3.2 We will introduce a library app to access online library services.
- 3.3 We will develop a social media and marketing plan for the Library Service.
- 3.4 We will enhance, develop and raise awareness of our large collection of e-books, e-audio, e-magazines and e-learning resources.
- 3.5 We will implement a programme of ICT infrastructure upgrades to underpin the development and roll out of new and innovative services.
- 3.6 We will develop digital learning centres and innovation spaces in suitable libraries in collaboration with local and national partners.

- 3.8 We will provide library users with access to training in the latest technologies as they evolve.
- 3.9 We will enhance public access to digital collections and services by making additional unique and extensive local history collections available online.
- 3.10 We will complete the rollout of RFID technology to all libraries.
- 3.11 We will rollout the new National Library Management System across all our branch libraries.
- 3.12 We will implement the revised National Record Retention Policy for libraries.

IMPLEMENTATION, MONITORING AND REVIEW

The plan will be regularly reviewed and a timescale for implementation of each action will be allocated. The plan will be contextualised by Limerick City and County Council's Corporate Plan, Limerick City and County Development Plan, current and future national public library plans and all other relevant local and national policies.

The plan will be reviewed and revised as necessary over its lifetime in the context of any major changes in strategic direction, as and when such changes arise.

Regular reports on progress and implementation of the plan will be presented as follows:
