1. Trade & Investment

- Uisce Éireann opened a new €60m Laboratory in Ballysimon, which will create 90 jobs. The new Laboratory and Scientific and Technical Service will deliver many benefits, including improving water quality data, regulatory compliance, increased transparency for the public and economic growth. The new 3,800 square metre facility will have the capacity to analyse 1.2 million water and wastewater tests annually with operations expected to commence in 2025.
- A world class Digital Manufacturing Facility opened in Limerick to help establish the city as a top manufacturing base. The Manufacturing Facility will ensure that Irish-based manufacturers have access to the infrastructure, technology and skills to help them solve real issues and to kickstart and continue to drive their digital transformation journey.
- Limerick was announced as one of the most attractive European Cities for foreign direct investment (FDI), earning the title of Micro European City of the Future, by FDI Magazine. The city also ranked highly for economic potential, business, friendliness and human capital and lifestyle.

International Relations

One-Zero SportsTech Conference

Leading figures from the global sports technology industry were in Limerick for the One-Zero SportsTech Conference on 31 March. The unique event saw SportsTech industry professionals from across the globe converge at Engine to learn, network and help shape the future of sport and technology. Lonie Paxton, three-time Super Bowl Champion, was joined by international speakers and panellists including Thomas Ryan, Vice President, Basketball Strategy, National Basketball Association (NBA), retired NBA player Maurice Evans and Tracy Deforge, CEO, The Players' Impact

The one-day event included a start-up competition, where entrepreneurs from the Irish Sports Technology sector pitched their concepts to a panel of judges, which included two US-based venture capitalists. There was also the construction of a temporary basketball court, where former NBA star, Chris Owens, demonstrated the future of technology in the sport.

There were panel discussions with expert insights into future trends, opportunities for investors and factors that business owners need to consider when raising capital. This event was a big leap forward towards putting Limerick on the international stage of the SportsTech industry and for demonstrating the start-up ecosystem, which the region has to offer.

2. Local Enterprise Office (LEO)

There were 351 participants on the LEO Business Training workshops and 24 Business Owners were approved for the LEO Mentoring programme in March.

During March, LEO Limerick held the Finals for both the National Enterprise Awards and the Student Enterprise Programme.

The Local Enterprise Awards Final took place at The Engine with the winning company, Cotter Agritech, going forward to represent Limerick at the National Final in the Mansion House in Dublin.

To read more about this innovative business, Cotter Agritech, see <https://www.cotteragritech.com/>

The Student Enterprise Programme

On 21 March, the Limerick Final of the Student Enterprise Awards took place at the Castletroy Park Hotel with 22 Schools and over 900 second level Students partaking in the programme over the academic year.

The winners of the three categories will now represent Limerick City and County at the National Final in Croke Park. Despite intense competition, the three category winners all came from Desmond College in Newcastle West and they are:

- Junior Category: Isobel Romo, Kinga Tobianaska, Melody Ivo, Paulina Varuyeva from "Dunkin Buddy."
- Intermediate Category: Elissa Shiels, Laura Brenann from "Benchibles."
- Senior Category: Emma Greaney and Madison Brouder of "Rehabilitation Nation."

3. Innovate Limerick

Film in Limerick

Cineposium: Limerick 2023

Limerick has won the bid to host Cineposium, AFCI's (Association of Film Commissioners International) Global Film Industry Summit, in Limerick.

The announcement was made by the Minister for Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media, Catherine Martin, TD, during OSCAR week in Los Angeles, with the Mayor of the City and County of Limerick, Councillor Francis Foley, in attendance.

AFCI's Cineposium event brings Film Commissions and industry leaders from around the world together to discuss policy, economic development and screen production and will serve as an opportunity to showcase Limerick and the west coast of Ireland to major studio executives.

Hosting the event is the result of a competitive bid process open to all AFCI Film Commission members, won this year by Film in Limerick. This is the first time that an Irish bid has won. Over the past decade, Cineposium has taken place in the US, France, New Zealand, Spain, South Korea, Russia and Colombia. The annual Cineposium conference connects AFCI members and film industry professionals with production industry partners and policy-makers worldwide.

A further reception took place for AFCI members and Studio Executives in Los Angeles in late March to invite industry leaders to Limerick during the event.

Engine Short Film Scheme

12 projects were shortlisted this month from almost 100 applications for the second edition of Engine Shorts, the Mid-West short film training and production scheme. The 12 project applicants all took part in one-to-one sessions with a script editor and were also interviewed for an episode of our new Mary Immaculate College / Film in Limerick Podcast show, 'Da Pictures.'

'You're not Home,' a short film commissioned as part of the first edition of Engine Shorts, was screened at the SXSW Film Festival in Austin, one of the top 12 film festivals in the world. The producers, Greg Burrowes, Ronan Cassidy and Director, Derek Ugochukwu, were in attendance at the festival to represent Limerick and attend a reception at the Irish Consulate in Austin.

Awards for Engine Short Films

At the Fourth Catalyst Film Festival in Limerick in March, Engine Short film, 'Vonnie: Ireland's Forgotten Fashion Icon,' directed by Renata Lima and produced by Melissa Collins, won the Best Documentary Award. The Breakthrough Award went to Nell Hensey for Engine Short 'Try and Touch,' produced by Gemma O'Shaughnessy, with Renata Lima and Melissa Collins winning the runner-up prize. 'You're not Home' was awarded the runner-up prize in the Best Irish Short category for Director, Derek Ugochukwu, and Producer, Greg Burrowes.

Local Productions

Two local TV series began filming in March in the region. 'Hidden Assets,' Season 2, filmed in Limerick and Clare. 'Blackshore,' from the makers of 'Smother,' began filming in Clare and Tipperary. Film in Limerick assisted in bringing both productions to the region, and provided help in securing locations and crew with local support on the ground during pre-production and filming.

Crew Academy Steering Group

The quarterly meeting of the Munster Film and TV Crew Academy was held in March. This initiative, run by Film in Limerick, with support from Screen Ireland, trains and upskills aspiring and experienced crew throughout Munster.

Training Courses

A Workshop on Audiences and the Business of Film was hosted by Film in Limerick and the Engine Collaboration Centre in March. The event looked at the film value chain, the life of a film beyond the cinema screen, and the different commercial players and their needs.

Film in Limerick on TUS / Dublin Film Festival Panel

Film in Limerick participated in an industry panel for students and graduates at Technological University of the Shannon (TUS) as part of Dublin International Film Festival's regional outreach programme.

GASP - Digital Conference

Film in Limerick supported the new digital conference organised by the Piquant digital agency. Film in Limerick spoke with animation students all looking for the best way to kickstart their career once they graduate.

Film Festivals Support

Film in Limerick supported Catalyst Film Festival and Fresh Film Festival with several hugely successful events in the new Engine Collaboration Centre during the month. The festivals support diverse and next generation talent development and play a vital role in continuing to develop the sector in the region.

1. Travel and Transportation Strategy

This year's Marchathon Step Challenge took place from 01 – 31 March.

There were many teams competing to win weekly competitions and aiming to top the Leader boards.

2. Active Travel

- Gaelscoil Sáirséal, Shelbourne Road, Limerick, had the official opening of the Safe Routes to School by Minister Jack Chambers on 30 March.
- 19 new bus shelters are to be built across Limerick city and county after the local authority was allocated €630,000 in March. This funding will be used for Bus Shelter Enabling Works for 2023.

The funding, which has been allocated by the National Transport Authority, will see five bus shelters constructed in Limerick's Metropolitan District and a further fourteen across the county.

It follows a successful funding application from Limerick City and County Council's Active Travel Team to the National Transport Authority.

It is a significant increase on the amount of funding received by Limerick City and County Council in last year's Bus Shelter Enabling Works Scheme which totalled €100,000.

Exact sites for each individual shelter are currently being assessed by Limerick City and County Council's Active Travel Team and designs are being prepared for each location.

ARTS COUNCIL FRAMEWORK AGREEMENT PROGRAMME

Creative Places

Limerick Arts Office partnered with Ballyhoura Development CLG in its application for Arts Council's Creative Places Award on 30 March. Creative Places is an opportunity for places which had not benefitted from sustained arts investment in the past to build local arts programmes which will benefit the people who live in these places. Each programme will have a coordinator or researcher who will begin local conversations to discuss and plan a range of brilliant creative and participatory projects for local people to take part in and enjoy. The proposed project builds on the strong foundations of Ballyhoura Development CLG's ongoing work and creative projects in the region, bringing artistic and creative opportunities to artists and communities in these rural areas.

FMC Professional Development Workshops

First Music Contact is the lead national music organisation for resourcing musicians and the independent music sector in Ireland. Limerick Arts Office is working in partnership with First Music Contact to deliver professional development workshops. On 29 March, the Limerick Development Panel on Funding and the Limerick Arts Office conversation took place online. The Development Panel comprised Ciaran Walsh, Associate Director, Culture Ireland, Tara Bolger, Support Manager, Music and Opera and the Arts Officer, Limerick City and County Council. The second hour was a hosted conversation between the Artists and Limerick Arts Office to assess the needs of musicians in Limerick and approaches to working together to deliver for these needs.

Artists Apartments

Open Call for the Artists Apartments, subsidised medium-term accommodation for artistic practitioners, closed on 08 March. The panel met and assessed the five applications for one apartment on 13 March.

FESTIVALS AND EVENTS

Limerick St. Patrick's Festival

The Festivals and Events Office had a busy month in March with 50,000 people attending Limerick's St. Patrick's Festival 2023. The celebrations kicked off with a burst of colour and entertainment for the St Patrick's Day Parade, which was led by Grand Marshal, Jon Kenny, who recently starred in 'The Banshees of Inisherin.' More than 70 groups participated under this year's theme of 'Discover Limerick.' Limerick's creativity was on display with impressive spectacles such as the 40 ft. Viking long boat replica, a Treaty Stone recreation and a reimaging of the Dancer of Quimper. Limerick's local bands, community, voluntary and sporting groups brought huge energy to the parade.

Street Show Saturday saw the City streets come alive with a family fun day of high energy acrobatics, magic and comedy on Bedford Row and Thomas Street. City centre streets were also animated with roving stilt walkers and circus figures. The Limerick City Centre Traders' Association spread the fun with a range of amusements on Cruises Street.

The weekend of celebrations concluded on Sunday with The International Band Championship. Wet weather failed to dampen the spirits of the thousands who lined the streets and they were treated to energetic performances from twenty bands from the North Americas, Europe and Ireland. Limerick's 51st International Band Championship featured more than 1,500 musicians. The Pride of Bixby Marching Band from Oklahoma was the overall winner but there were awards too for many of the other groups.

LIBRARY

- Adare Library celebrated World Book Day on 02 March with story times and arts and crafts sessions attended by almost 60 Junior and Senior infants from St. Nicholas' and Patrickswell National Schools. Considering the popularity of the Harry Potter books, the branch marked Luna Lovegood's birthday with interactive arts and crafts sessions for more than 60 pupils from Our Lady's Abbey and St. Nicholas National School. Two very successful Healthy Ireland at Your Library events were held, including a talk from Limerick Sports Partnership about the importance of exercise and healthy diet with boys from Scoil Naomh Íosaf, and an Eco Art therapy session with Helena Gleeson and the 2020 Club. Baby, Parent and Toddler group continued and there were two class visits from Junior and Senior Infants from Our Lady's Abbey Girls National School. The 2020 group held their book club meeting and the branch marked Astronomy Week and St. Patrick's Day with colourful displays.

- World Book Day was celebrated at Kilmallock Library by class visits all week long, with children attending in costumes bringing their favourite characters to life. A prize of a book token was given to the most imaginative and organic costume. Knockadea National School and Scoil Mocheallóg National School enjoyed some stories, shared some fun riddles and jokes, sang some songs and had a fun, interactive library scavenger hunt. The busy week continued at Kilmallock Library with large numbers from local schools attending to make their own bookmarks and flower paper crafts. The introduction of a giant chess set on 09 March in the new chess corner was met with immense enthusiasm, attracting chess lovers young and old, whether a keen player or a student of the game. After school young chess players gathered to practice their skills and compete with each other. The branch displayed and promoted "Untold Stories, a collection of poems and short stories" written by local women and presented by Women's collective Ireland-Limerick. Women's Collective Ireland-Limerick has been working with women locally for over 20 years and aims to promote gender equality through their work with women who experience multiple forms of oppression by providing information on a range of issues such as health provision, screening services and Violence against Women services. They also provide supports for women to return to education and training and to access employment and/or volunteering opportunities. A special promotion of Graphic Novels to encourage reluctant readers was held. The Fifth class pupils of Scoil Mocheallóg National School visited Kilmallock Library on 24 March to celebrate Astronomy Week with a talk by Derek O'Keeffe of Cork Astronomy Club. Derek gave a fascinating talk introducing the pupils to the world of astronomy and the wonders in the nighttime sky and was very impressed by the questions, curiosity and insights of the children. Ballyorgan Community Council, to present an outreach “Little Readers” session at Glenroe National School on 25 March. A great crowd attended with over 30 toddlers present with their grown-ups. Staff shared a fun morning of songs, nursery rhymes, story and craft followed by fantastic catering funded by Limerick Childcare Committee. The in-house “Little Readers” session continued on March 31 when songs, nursery rhymes and stories echoed throughout the Library. The little readers then enjoyed a crafting session whilst their grown-ups enjoyed a chat and a cuppa. On 16 March, the branch hosted a bilingual lecture entitled ‘Irish is a foreign language no different to Yiddish!’ focusing on the hidden history of the attempts to suppress and save the Irish Language during the Irish Revolution. This entertaining and thought-provoking talk from Lecturer, Dr Pádraig Óg Ó Ruairc, prompted a lively Q&A session, which was enjoyed by the large group in attendance. For the younger audience, there was an animated and fun session of Scéalta agus Ránnta with Joanne from Comhluadar Luimnigh. The interactive bilingual stories and rhymes entertained all who attended on 16 March.

- The annual Limerick Lifelong Learning Festival launched on 27 March and the City Library was delighted to host a number of events as part of this important festival and to promote the festival theme of ‘Come Learn with Me in 2023.’ On 27 March, a capacity crowd attended ‘Caring for Your Wellbeing.’ This talk, delivered by the Social Health and Education Project, aimed to explore the idea of wellbeing and provide techniques to help deal with distress. The Social Health and Education Project returned on 28 March with another booked out session on ‘Managing Stress in Your Everyday Life.’ This talk allowed participants a chance to better understand their own stress and to find ways to break the stress cycle and set up a cycle of wellness instead. Also on 28 March, the Library welcomed the ‘Think Before You Flush’ environmental education campaign run by Clean Coasts in partnership with Uisce Éireann by hosting an information stand and workshop in the foyer. This campaign was developed in response to sewage related litter on beaches and Uisce Éireann reporting a high level of pipe blockages and highlighting how our actions in our own homes can affect our waterways and beaches. On 29 March, the City Library hosted a talk by Cian McDonnell, chartered physiotherapist, on ‘The Benefits of Active Living as We Age.’ Cian delivered a well-attended talk for our older patrons on the importance of staying active, the science behind it, and offered advice on how to work active living principles into everyday lives. 30 March saw the City Library invite everyone to ‘Explore Limerick City’ with a guided walking tour of Limerick City and its History, led by Jorgen Hartogs, a qualified tour guide with over 20 years’ experience in Limerick. With two sessions on offer, these exciting tours quickly booked out and proved a most enjoyable and informative way to discover more about our wonderful city. World Book Day was celebrated on 02 March with a busy day of events. Second Year JSCP (Junior Certificate School Programme) students from Ardscoil Mhuire launched their Make-a-Book Exhibition of their self-designed wellbeing journals to mark World Book Day. These beautiful and creative books were on display in the Library for a week where they were much admired by all. As the Library was inundated by requests from schools and preschools to visit as part of their World Book Day celebrations, they had to schedule the fun over two days not one! On 02 and 03 March, they welcomed multiple classes from the Presentation Primary School and from Poppins Preschool who all enjoyed the wonderful selection of stories and books available in our bright and friendly children’s library. In addition to the World Book Day groups, the branch had class visits from several primary schools across the month, including Scoil Íosagáin Autism Support Class on 09 March; Presentation Primary School on 16 March; St. Michael’s Infant School Autism Unit on 24 March and CBS Primary School on both 29 and 30 March. Secondary schools visiting during the month included First Year students from St. Clement’s College on 14 March and Second Year students on 16 March. Also visiting on 16 March were Second Year students from Coláiste Nano Nagle who enjoyed a library tour, registered for membership and collected their EU information packs courtesy of the Library’s Europe Direct Information Centre. The monthly book clubs continued to meet and engage in lively debate about their chosen titles. Meetings of the First Thursday Book Club took place on 02 March; the second Wednesday Book Club on 08 March; the U3A (University of the Third Age) book clubs on consecutive Mondays on 13, 20 and 27 March; and the newest book club, this time for children, which is held in partnership with Limerick Youth Service, and had its first very successful meeting on 02 March. The weekly Toddler Story Time continued to go from strength to strength every Wednesday morning, while the monthly Spanish language story time 'Cuenta Cuentos' saw a large group attending the interactive bilingual story session on 14 March. Then, on 25 March, the wonderful Róisín Meaney delighted her ever-growing audience of fans with her monthly children's story time. Also continuing throughout March were the weekly Personal Development Classes for migrants and asylum seekers organised by PAUL Partnership and Tuesday evening's Sahaja Yoga meditation meetings, while the Writepace Creative Writing group held their monthly meeting on a Saturday.

- Watch House Cross Library was delighted to host the launch of Story Seeds: Adventures Around Limerick and Beyond, in the magnificent setting of the conference room at Thomond Park Stadium. The Mayor of the City and County of Limerick, Councillor Francis Foley, was in attendance to launch the book which was the culmination of a creative pilot project in which over 600 children were encouraged to use their imagination and to have fun writing a collection of stories. Through Story Seeds, Fighting Words has connected with organisations working in the areas of disadvantage, social marginalisation, mental health, disability, ethnic minorities and refugees/migrants. They have brought together groups to work with facilitators to create new stories, plays, poems and more. Following staff training, contact was made with local schools, Corpus Christi and Thomond Primary, to commence workshops. Participants from Second to Sixth Class attended a series of workshops over an eight-week period held in Watch House Cross Library, facilitated by Fighting Words volunteers, library staff and illustrators. The context was set by asking the young writers about their favourite books, TV shows and movies to help them identify the key elements of a story. The idea was that the first school would write the first chapter of a story, choose characters and identify well-known local amenities that would form the basis of the story. Ending on a cliff-hanger enabled the next school to continue the following chapter of the story. The result was 10 stories written by primary schools in Limerick City and in Co. Tipperary from October 2022 to January 2023. The Limerick schools involved were Corpus Christi Primary School, Thomond Primary School, Our Lady Queen of Peace, Roxboro, and St. Mary's National School, Bishop Street. The Tipperary schools involved were St. John the Baptist Boys' National School, Cashel, St. John the Baptist Girls' National School, Cashel, Bishop Harty National School, Ballinree, and Scoil Iosef Naofa, Roscrea. These students put a huge amount of effort into this project and were thrilled to be presented with their very own copy in Thomond Park. This event was widely reported by RTE, the Irish Times and local media. ABC Startright finished their six-week programme of baby nutrition, baby massage and baby reflexology which was held on Thursday mornings in the library. Age Action continued to hold a weekly class for seniors in the library, providing training for over 55s in the use of computers, smartphones and the Internet. Class visits during March included First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Classes from Thomond Primary School. Senior Infants from Corpus Christi also visited the library. Second Class from Scoil Chríost Rí, Caherdavin, enjoyed a library tour and borrowed books to take home. Storytime continued each Thursday during March combined with a special arts and craft event to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. The children enjoyed making a shamrock ring and a St. Patrick's Day mobile decoration. 15 children attended with parents for the event. The Parent and Toddler Group met each Friday morning for tea, chat, songs, nursery rhymes and stories. Doras Luimní continued to teach a Beginners' Computers Programme for asylum seekers recently arrived into Ireland and living in the Knockalisheen Centre in Meelick. Helium Arts, who work with children and young people living with long-term health conditions, delivered a creative workshop in the library on 25 March. The workshop was facilitated by artist, Chelsea Canavan, and is designed around supporting the wellbeing and creativity of children and young people with underlying or complex medical conditions. The Northside Family Resource Centre art exhibition was launched on 28 March. Limerick Childcare

Committee, as part of The Lifelong Learning Festival, held a talk in the library on 29 March titled 'Using Children's Books to introduce your young child to diversity.' The recommended books discussed during the talk can be borrowed from the local branch library. The two Children's Book Clubs met on 29 March. 'Wingbearer' by Marjorie Liu, a graphic novel, was a big hit with the 9 to 12 year old age group. Fright Forest by Marcus Sedgwick - the 7 to 9 year old choice for March - gave rise to plenty of chats and exchange of views about the story. Both Adult Book Clubs met during March having read 'The Glorious Guinness Girls' by Emily Hourican. Lego Club met each Friday from 3.30 p.m. to 4.30 p.m., with an average of 15 to 20 children in the group each week. The Sensory Room continued to be very well used with 70 bookings during March and 183 individuals using the space.

- In Dooradoyle Library, the Irish M.E. Trust (Myalgia Encephalomyelitis) had their first gathering of 2023 on 01 March, where they met to discuss the effects of M.E., C.F.S. (Chronic Fatigue Syndrome) and Long Covid Fatigue. World Book Day got off to a flying start on 02 March with a visit from First, Second and Third Class pupils from Patrickswell National School. Over 50 children visited the library for story-time, arts and crafts and each child received their very own library card. Cute and Clever Playschool, Lisnagry, also visited to celebrate World Book Day where they enjoyed an interactive session of stories, nursery rhymes and songs. Mid West Bereavement Social Group hosted its first book club meeting on 03 March. They selected 'The Librarian of Auschwitz' by Antonio Iturbe for members to read. Dooradoyle Library Book Club members met on 30 March to discuss 'A Line Made by Walking' by Sara Baume which they thoroughly enjoyed. 'Into the Light,' a beautiful collection of patchwork quilting, is the latest exhibition at Dooradoyle Library. The exhibits are by local quilter, Frances Shanahan, who only discovered her love of quilting in recent years. The exhibition was officially opened by Jan O'Sullivan on 10 March. Arts and crafts sessions took place on 15 March to mark St. Patrick's Day. Children made leprechaun masks and shamrock bookmarks. A selection of craft packs were made available for children who were unable to attend the
- in-house craft events. A group of Third Year students from St. Clement's College visited on 16 March as part of their Literacy Week Programme. The students were given a tour of the library and a brief introduction to the range of E-services on offer. Each student registered for library membership. A group of twenty adults from Enable Ireland held a poetry reading on 23 March where they listened to poems and shared a selection of their own writings. Dooradoyle Library hosted three events as part of this year's Limerick Lifelong Learning Festival. The first event on 28 March was a talk by Marie McElhinney from Limerick Childcare Committee on 'Using Children's Books to Introduce Your Young Child to Diversity.' Later that day, library staff hosted a paper-folding craft session for adults where they learned how to make hedgehogs and flowers using old books. Finally, on 31 March, independent art historian, Dr. Deirdre Kelly, delivered a fascinating talk on the Pre-Raphaelite Art Movement of the mid-nineteenth to early twentieth century. Regular story-times and class visits continued throughout the month.
- There were 36 onsite visits by researchers to the Local Studies Department at Watch House Cross Community Library in March - these comprised seven research sessions on the microfilm archives of local newspapers, and 17 on the databases to which the Department subscribes. Nine researchers worked on material from the Local Studies and Archives collections, and three advice sessions on family history were provided. There were 22 remote queries, submitted by email or telephone. Work proceeded on the Department's three Decade of Centenaries' projects for 2023, as did work relating to the development of the new Local Studies website. A number of new acquisitions were added to stock.
- World Book Day was also celebrated with bestselling local author, Roisín Meaney, reading to the boys and girls from First and Second Class in Le Chéile National School, and the pupils from Church Street National School in Rathkeale paid a visit to Rathkeale Library for a storytime and craft session by library staff.

- On 16 March, Glin Library hosted 'Craic agus Ceol in the Library,' a coffee morning with an Irish twist, to celebrate Seachtain na Gaeilge. There was plenty of singing and dancing, and the crowd was delighted to be treated to spontaneous songs, and a poem written especially for the occasion by retired Glin Librarian. The library received so much praise for the event and it was greatly supported by the local community, all of whom enjoyed food from a local bakery and a music session led by local musicians. Glin Library also arranged a very special bi-lingual storytime for Second and Third Classes from St. Fergus' National School on 15 March to celebrate Seachtain na Gaeilge.
- Newcastle West Library continued with class visits, displays for Seachtain na Gaeilge, St. Patrick's Day and Astronomy Week.

LIMERICK CITY GALLERY OF ART (LCGA)

- Two exhibitions continued during March - Mammalia and Psyche - a collaborative project with artists Mel French and Celine Sheridan curated by Catherine Marshall. The second exhibition is Come on baby - the first solo institutional exhibition by Casey Walshe. They were the recipient of a Next Generation award from the Arts Council in 2022.
- A selection of works from the Permanent Collection form the basis of a very fine representation from the Collection.
- The first Test Space residency continued throughout March. The recipient of the residency is Juliette Morrison who is currently doing an MA, by practice, at Limerick School of Art and Design TUS. Visitors to the Gallery have the opportunity to engage with Juliette and observe an artist while she works.
- Meetings continued with various artists and organisations in preparation for the remainder of 2023 and 2024.

- The recruitment of the Shinnors Scholar, a two-year MA by practice, has commenced. This initiative is a partnership with TUS, which has been in place for 16 years with eight participants to date. The focus of the Shinnors Scholar will be on the development of the education programme with primary schools.

LIMERICK MUSEUM

- On 09 March, New Paintings, an exhibition of new work by P J O'Connell and curated by Maurice Quillinan, opened in Limerick Museum. A native of Thurles, Co. Tipperary, P J O'Connell was educated at Limerick School of Art and Design and the Academie Van Beeldende Kunsten, Rotterdam. He is currently Head of Art and Design in Coláiste Mhuire Co-Ed Secondary School in Thurles. P J O'Connell has exhibited work in solo and group shows in Ireland and abroad since 1987. His paintings are in private collections in Ireland, Europe, North America, Africa and Australia. In addition, many of his works are in public collections, including Limerick City Gallery of Art, Mater Private Hospital, University of Limerick, Limerick City and County Council, Kildare County Council, Tipperary County Council, University Hospital Limerick, and the Irish Embassy, Kampala, Uganda. P J O'Connell has stated that 'my recent works continue my commitment to the principles and methods of abstraction. As such, references made in my work to the ways in which the everyday world appears to us are almost entirely put aside so that feeling and emotion can be aroused directly through the interaction of the materials and technique, the media and the various ways the elements of design can be made to behave. There is a major commitment to the grid in these latest series of works with great stress (and delight) given to the physicality of application of paint resulting in repetitive phrases and shifting layers.'
- On 16 March, Councillor Joe Pond, who deputised for the Mayor of the City and County of Limerick, performed the Official Opening of The Life and Legacy of Saint Patrick, an exhibition curated by the Assistant Curator of Limerick Museum.

- This exhibition formed part of the wider celebrations across Limerick city and county to celebrate Saint Patrick's Day. It featured a range of items including images and ephemera from the permanent collection of Limerick Museum which chronicle the life and legacy of Saint Patrick, and explored how the day was celebrated in Limerick in times gone. The display was complemented by colourful artwork created by the boys and girls of Senior Infants in Shountrade National School, depicting the many legends surrounding Saint Patrick from his time as a shepherd to his banishment of the snakes.
- To commemorate International Women's Day on 08 March, Limerick Museum hosted a lecture by renowned historian, Sharon Slater, on 'The Extraordinary Lives of Catalina Sarsfield and Constance O'Meara.' The event was organised by the Limerick Federation of the Irish Countrywomen's Association, and attracted a large and enthusiastic attendance. In March, the Museum acquired three significant collections. First, the collection of Maude Kearney (1873-1963) which consists of several pieces of Limerick lace and numerous lace patterns. Mrs. Kearney ran a lace-making business called the Thomond Lace Industry, which employed between fifty and eighty workers at the height of its success. The collection was donated by Grania McElligott, a granddaughter of Maude Kearney. Second, the Press 22 Collection consists of a large collection of photographic negatives and related material, relating to the Press 22 photographic agency, established in Limerick in April 1984. The collection was donated by Liam Burke, Director/Photographer at Press 22. Third, Joe Donnellan donated his extensive collection of material relating to the history of the Cecilian Musical Society, of which he was a long serving member and former president. The Cecilian Musical Society is one of Ireland's longest running musical societies. Founded in 1919, it has been a staple part of Limerick's entertainment scene for over 100 years.
- The Museum was again involved in the celebration of Saint Patrick's Day in Limerick. The Curator and Assistant Curator were interviewed on two radio stations in connection with the history of Saint Patrick's Day in Limerick and the Life and Legacy of Saint Patrick Exhibition - Limerick's Live 95 on 15 March and Wired FM (which is run by students from Mary Immaculate College and the Technological University of the Shannon) on 16 March. In addition, a short video on the history of Saint Patrick's Day in Limerick, researched and narrated by the Curator, featured on Limerick.ie during the Saint Patrick's Day Festival.
- As part of the Museum's longstanding collaboration with the Limerick Lifelong Learning Festival, the Curator gave two well-attended tours of the Museum on 28 and 31 March.

Regeneration

Overall

The Council has appointed KPMG to prepare a status update of the Limerick Regeneration Framework Implementation Plan (LRFIP 2014-2023). The document will assess the current position and make recommendations for the future strategic direction of Limerick's Regeneration Programme. KPMG have now completed their series of engagements with relevant stakeholders across the Regeneration areas and work has now commenced on the drafting of the report.

Economic

Outreach to Employment Programme

St. Mary's Park Employment Project Team held its first meeting in Limerick Island Community Partners (LICP). This meeting comprised of all the agencies and organisations working in the area of St. Mary's Park with a specific focus on training, further education and employment. Initiatives for the year ahead were discussed and meetings are to take place on a regular basis facilitated by Outreach to Employment Coordinator.

Work continues on this initiative and enquiries can be made to outreachtoemployment@limerick.ie

Social

Economic and Social Intervention Fund (ESIF) Update

Significant work continued to ensure the expeditious drawdown of the Economic and Social Intervention Fund 2023. 190 projects across the city will benefit from the fund under the five Regeneration themes of -

- Community - 50 Projects
- Employability and Work - 14 projects
- Health, Wellbeing and Ageing Well - 47 projects
- Education and Learning - 52 projects
- Families and Youth at Risk - 27 projects

The Directorate continued to engage with all of these projects with a consistent focus on securing an enduring legacy from the successes of the Social and Economic Pillars of the Regeneration programme.

A recent visit from Maltese Government Departments served to further emphasise the scale and positive impact of the Economic and Social Intervention Fund throughout the life cycle of the Regeneration Programme.

Community Activities

- International Women's Day was celebrated in all four Regeneration communities, including multi-cultural events held in the community centres to celebrate women and their contribution to the community and wider.
- A King's Island Public Information evening was held on 07 March following on from an Agency Networking event that took place in King's Island Community Centre. The meetings were held to advise the King's Island community of the services and agencies that are active in their area. This was a well-attended event and was a joint initiative between PAUL Partnership and the Regeneration Directorate.
- A meeting was held with artist, Louise Keeley, at St. Mary's Primary School and local children who will be working with Louise as part of the community mural at the handball alley in St. Mary's Park. The children were very excited to hear they will be contributing to the handball alley artwork, having submitted their own artwork from school as part of the project.
- The King's Island Community Group, which consisted of the school, afterschool group, Limerick Island Community Partners (LICP), Barnardos, PAUL Partnership, scouts and members of Star Rovers FC and St. Mary's Rugby Club, all marched in the St. Patrick's Day Parade. The families participating made a lot of the materials themselves, including banners, during the nine-week family art programme in the community centre run by LICP in conjunction with Limerick and Clare Education and Training Board.
- LICP hosted a Lego building group in No 19, Nicholas Street every Thursday.
- A Thursday young mothers' drama group started in St. Mary's Park in March, working towards a community event.
- Moyross Residents' Forum held a Health and Wellness Day at the Moyross Community Centre on 13 March. Residents were given taster treatments, information on reflexology, Indian head massage, and acupuncture on the day. Health information on a variety of topics from healthy eating exercise and quit smoking were available on the day. The event was supported by the Marie Keating Foundation. It was a great success for the community of Moyross. Moyross Bingo is acknowledged for sponsoring the cost of the Body Tree Community Clinic on the day.
- Moyross Residents' Forum supported the rollout of the Strengthening Communities Programme in the four Regeneration areas. This has the potential to support new upcoming community leaders and support and encourage young adults to engage, advocate and have their voices heard.
- A joint community project with Watch House Cross Community Library to paint a mural on the wall outside the library got underway in March. The children from Corpus Christi Primary School, the youths in Moyross Youth Academy and a number of residents have been engaged in this project. The theme is the environment and the children from First Class to Sixth Class were involved in a colouring competition.
- Social enterprise videos funded by PAUL Partnership were published in the Regeneration areas to showcase the enterprising work taking place regularly in the communities.
- The West End Youth Centre in Our Lady of Lourdes Community Centre was honoured by the Mayor of the City and County of Limerick, Councillor Francis Foley, for its recent Pride of Place Award. There was a great attendance with very kind words delivered by all involved.
- Our Lady of Lourdes Community Centre assisted several Individuals and families with food hampers from various charities and referred some new households to St. Vincent de Paul and Mid-West Simon Community.

4. Urban Innovation

Creative Climate Action

In March, Urban Innovation submitted an application to the Creative Climate Action Fund II, in partnership with Limerick Arts Office and a variety of other partners. The application seeks to build on the work completed in 2022 in the Creative Climate project 'Decarbonising Together.' Síolta Glasa invites seven Limerick community groups identified through an expression of interest to: (i) examine decarbonisation in their communities, (ii) identify an aspect that matters to them (iii) work with a creative partner to explore and enable localised behaviour change. The collaborations support learning and doing together, and use Limerick's Citizen Innovation Lab (CIL) as a collaboration platform to create impact through empowering communities with citizen creativity. Professional creatives and scientists are placed at the core of the process, contributing to a positive cycle of collaboration, which builds capacity in communities, enabling a just transition.

+CityxChange

On 08 March, members of the +CityxChange Team, which included Limerick City and County Council staff and local Limerick company Gkinetic, held an event in the Citizen Innovation Lab on the deployment of the river turbine in the Shannon as part of the project. Members of the public were updated on the status of planning permission which was approved and on next steps, particularly the foreshore licence process. The future ownership of the river turbine as a community asset owned by a renewable energy community was discussed.

Members of the Team attended a learning and dissemination event in Sestao, Spain, from 26 – 28 March to discuss Energy Communities.

Climate Action Plan

The Minister for the Environment, Climate Action and Communications formally requested that a Climate Action Plan be prepared for Limerick City and County. The plan is to be completed within 12 months. Staff attended training on the preparation of the plan in Castleconnell on 29 March.

Citizen Innovation Lab

On 25 March, students from Technological University of the Shannon (TUS)'s Community Energy Development attended a workshop held by +CityxChange staff. Students learned about the work of the +CityxChange project over the last four years with a particular emphasis on the citizen engagement and participation practices that were implemented, but also on technical aspects such as energy sharing and peer-to-peer trading. The challenges and opportunities of community energy, and the role of communities and the local authority will have in a distributed energy system, were discussed.
